

Book Walter To Inspire Your Group

Walter Spires, author, teacher, and motivator of men

Husband, dad, businessman, author, teacher, missionary to men, and most of all, a desperate man after God's own heart.

Walter spent most of his career in the healthcare industry serving in leadership roles across the continuum of care. He was also strategy and management advisor, during which time he wrote his first book, Power Tools, to equip individuals and organizations with 'tools' to build & empower high performance people and teams.

Walter's new book, All Men Are Desperate Whether They Admit It or Not, was recently released and is being used by men from all walks of life for personal growth and in small group communities.

Walter has spoken nationally to thousands of people in venues that include major corporate and association meetings as well as ministry conferences and events, including church and para-church organizations. He has also been a guest on television and radio.

Desperate Men, the menistry®, was borne out of Walter's many years of writing lessons and teaching men from all walks of life – the rescue mission, prison, corporate executives, and physicians. Walter has served the local church for more than thirty-five years. He and Gigi, his wife of 34 years, have three grown children, two of whom are married. Walter and Gigi reside in Spring Hill, TN.

To engage Walter to motivate and equip your audience at a meeting, conference, or event or inquire about programs and fees, please complete the following information and click submit.

▪ Name*

First  Last

▪ Email*

▪ Phone

▪ Contact Walter About:

- Men's meeting or conference event
- Women's meeting or conference event
- Men & Women in audience of program or event
- Singles meeting or conference event
- Preach or teach at church service
- Other

▪ Approximate date needed (for speaking)*

Submit